

Comparing Education Savings Vehicles

	529 Savings Plan	Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA)	Custodial Account (UTMA/UGMA)	Qualifying U.S. Savings Bond	Traditional or Roth IRA
Ownership & Control of Account	Account owner maintains control.	Generally, account owner controls ESA until beneficiary attains the age of majority unless otherwise indicated on the ESA application. Check with your ESA provider for more information.	Custodian (i.e. you or another adult) controls until age of termination (as defined by state law).	Owner must be at least 24 years old. When using bonds for your child's education, the bonds must be registered in your name and/or your spouse's name. Your child can be listed as a beneficiary on the bond, but not as a co-owner. When using bonds for your own education, the bonds must be registered in your name.	Traditional and/or Roth account owner maintains control.
Guidelines for Use	May be used for qualified higher education expenses at any post-secondary schools participating in the U.S. financial aid program. These include tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment, as well as room and board if the student is enrolled at least half time in a degree program. Beginning in 2018: Up to $10,000 per year may be used for K-12 tuition expenses at public, private or religious schools.	May be used for qualified elementary, secondary or higher education expenses incurred by the time beneficiary turns age 30. May also be used for K-12 tutoring, computer equipment, room and board, uniforms and extended day programs.	If used before age of termination, must be used for benefit of the minor. No restrictions on use when under control of beneficiary.	May be used for qualified higher education expenses (does not include books, fees, or room and board) at any post-secondary schools participating in the U.S. financial aid program. Qualified higher education expenses must be incurred during the same tax year in which the bonds are redeemed. Also, may use funds to make a contribution to a 529 plan or Coverdell ESA.	May be used for qualified higher education expenses. These include tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment, as well as room and board if the student is enrolled at least half time in a degree program. The qualified higher education expenses must be for you, your spouse, your children or your grandchildren.

Education Planning

	529 Savings Plan	Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA)	Custodial Account (UTMA/UGMA)	Qualifying U.S. Savings Bond	Traditional or Roth IRA
Change of Beneficiary (Recipient)	Can change beneficiary tax-free and penalty-free to a member of the designated beneficiary's family. Beginning in 2018: 529 education savings plans can be moved tax-free and penalty-free to a 529 ABLER plan for a disabled beneficiary or member of the designated beneficiary's family up to the annual contribution limit.	Can change beneficiary tax-free and penalty-free to a member of the designated beneficiary's family.	Not permitted. Contributions are irrevocable gifts to the child.	Any person may be named as beneficiary without affecting the eligibility of the bond for exclusion.	Ownership changes are not permitted.
Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) Limit	None	Eligibility for ESA phased out with modified AGI: Single: $95,000-$110,000 Joint: $190,000-$220,000	None	Interest exclusion is limited if your modified AGI (2017) is: $78,150 to $93,150 - Single or Head of Household $117,250 to $147,250 – Married/ Joint or Qualifying Widow(er) with dependent child	Eligibility for Traditional IRA deduction phased out with modified AGI (2017): $62,000-$71,999 - Single $99,000-$118,999 - Joint/Plan Participant $186,000-$195,999 - Joint/Not Plan Participant Eligibility for Roth IRA contributions phased out with AGI (2017): $118,000-$132,999 - Single $186,000-$195,999 - Joint

Education Planning

	529 Savings Plan	Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA)	Custodial Account (UTMA/UGMA)	Qualifying U.S. Savings Bond	Traditional or Roth IRA
Annual Contribution Limit	Gifts up to $15,000 per year ($30,000 per couple) to child's 529 account without being subject to federal gift tax treatment. Accelerated five-year gifts limited to $75,000 lump sum per donor, per beneficiary in a single year ($150,000 for married couples). Additional gifts during this five-year period will trigger gift tax consequences. Lifetime cap applies and varies according to state plan.	$2,000 per designated beneficiary under 18. Contributions can only be made if the individual's modified AGI is less than $110,000 ($220,000 for married couples filing a joint return). Contributions are reduced when modified AGI is between $95,000- $110,000 for individuals ($190,000- $220,000 for married couples filing a joint return).	Gifts up to $15,000 per year ($30,000 per couple) to child's UTMA/UGMA account without being subject to federal gift tax treatment.	Bonds you buy for the Educational Savings Bond Program are subject to the limit of $10,000 face value (equal to the purchase price) per series per Social Security Number per year, just like any other purchase. There is no limit on the amount of bonds that you can accumulate over a lifetime.	Traditional IRA: $5,500 or 100% of earned income, whichever is less (minus Roth IRA contributions). Roth IRA: $5,500 or 100% of earned income, whichever is less (minus traditional IRA contributions).
Taxation of Earnings and Distributions When Used for Qualified Education Expenses	Earnings grow federal income tax-deferred. Qualified distributions are federal income tax-free. State tax treatment may vary.	Earnings grow federal income tax-deferred. Qualified distributions are federal income tax-free. State tax treatment may vary.	Earnings are taxable and reported under the child's social security number. Note: The kiddie tax generally applies to children under age 19 and to full-time students under age 24.	Qualified taxpayers can exclude from their gross income all or part of the interest paid upon the redemption of eligible Series EE and I Bonds issued after 1989 (see AGI limit above). Bonds purchased and owned by the child do not qualify for the interest exclusion.	With a traditional IRA, the taxable amount of the distribution is subject to income tax. With a Roth IRA, contributions are distributed tax-free, but earnings are generally subject to income tax if withdrawn before having the Roth for five years and reaching age 59 ½. The taxable portion of traditional or Roth distributions used for qualified higher education expenses is exempt from the 10% early distribution penalty.

Education Planning

	529 Savings Plan	Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA)	Custodial Account (UTMA/UGMA)	Qualifying U.S. Savings Bond	Traditional or Roth IRA
Taxation and Penalty for Non-Qualified Use	Earnings portion of nonqualified withdrawals are taxed as ordinary income to the designated beneficiary and subject to a 10% penalty (earnings only). Penalty-free withdrawals permitted in the event of scholarship, death, or disability of the beneficiary.	Earnings portion of nonqualified withdrawals are taxed as ordinary income to the designated beneficiary and subject to a 10% penalty (earnings only). Penalty-free withdrawals permitted in the event of scholarship, death, or disability of the beneficiary.	Not applicable.	Minimum term of ownership: 1 year Early redemption penalties: Before 5 years, forfeit 3 most recent months' interest; After 5 years, no penalty. You must use both the principal and interest from the bonds to pay qualified expenses in order to exclude the interest from your income. If the amount of eligible bonds you've cashed during the year exceeds the amount of qualified educational expenses paid during the year, the amount of excludable interest is reduced.	Taxable portion of withdrawals are taxed as ordinary income. A 10% penalty generally applies to withdrawals before age 59 ½.
Impact on Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)	Generally treated as parent's asset if owned by the parent. Considered an asset of the account owner.	Generally treated as parent's asset. Considered an asset of the account owner.	Considered an asset of the child (beneficiary).	Generally treated as the parent's asset. Considered an asset of the registered owner.	Generally not counted as an asset.

Education Planning

	529 Savings Plan	Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA)	Custodial Account (UTMA/UGMA)	Qualifying U.S. Savings Bond	Traditional or Roth IRA
Rollovers and Transfers	Rollovers between 529 plans may be permitted under certain circumstances. The account owner can move funds from one state's 529 education savings plan to another states' plan one time within a 12-month period for the same beneficiary. Rollovers to a different beneficiary who is a member of the family are permitted any time. They are not subject to the one rollover per year rule. Rollovers may also be made from a 529 education savings plan to a 529 ABLÉ account for a disabled designated beneficiary or member of the beneficiary's family, up to the annual funding amount permitted in the 529 ABLÉ account.	Rollovers and transfers between ESAs are permitted. Rollovers are limited to once in a 12-month period. Direct transfers between trustees or custodians are unlimited. Rollovers may also be made from an ESA to a 529 savings plan. The withdrawal from the ESA is tax-free if contributions are made to a 529 education savings account with the same account owner and beneficiary within 60 days and in the same taxable year.	Transfers from custodial accounts to a 529 savings plans are generally permitted, but subject to certain restrictions. The 529 savings plan must be established as a custodial 529 plan for the same designated beneficiary. At the age of majority (either 18 or 21, depending on state law) the student will become the account owner.	Qualifying U.S. savings bonds can be used to fund a 529 savings plan or ESA.	Traditional or Roth IRAs cannot generally be transferred or rolled over to a tax-advantaged 529 savings plan or ESA without tax implications.

Education Planning

	529 Savings Plan	Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA)	Custodial Account (UTMA/UGMA)	Qualifying U.S. Savings Bond	Traditional or Roth IRA
Things to Consider Before Doing a Rollover	Distributions that do not meet the conditions above would be treated as non-qualified and the earnings subject to taxation and the 10% penalty. There may be fees associated with changing plans. If a tax deduction was taken for an in-state plan and the plan is moved to another state, the state may “recapture” the tax and require repayment of the deduction previously received.	ESAs can be used for a variety of K-12 and college expenses. 529 savings plans can only be used for K-12 tuition expenses (up to $10,000 a year) in addition to college or other post-secondary education expenses. ESAs generally have broader investment options and investment transactions can be made at any time. 529 savings plans typically offer a limited menu of mutual funds and investment changes can only be made twice a year. Keep records confirming the ESA distribution and 529 savings plan contribution are done in the same calendar year and completed within 60 days.	529 savings plans accept only cash deposits. Any investments in the custodial account must be liquidated first. Capital gains taxes would apply on the liquidation. State law will determine if an in-state tax deduction is available for the 529 savings plan contribution and who can claim that deduction (the designated beneficiary or the account owner). Consult with a tax professional before moving a custodial account to a 529 plan.	529 savings plan and ESA contributions must be made in cash. When the bonds are cashed in, you may be able to exclude the bond interest from income taxes (see AGI limit above). Consult with a tax professional for details.	Traditional IRA distributions are generally taxed as ordinary income when received. A 10% federal tax penalty may also apply if the distribution is taken prior to age 59 ½. The tax penalty does not apply if the distribution is for qualified higher education expenses of the account owner, spouse, children or grandchildren. Roth IRA distributions that are qualified (after 5 years and reaching age 59 ½) are income tax free regardless of what the distributions are used for. Non-qualified Roth distributions are taxed on the earnings distributed. Earnings are also generally subject to a 10% penalty. The 10% penalty does not apply if Roth IRA distributions are used for qualified higher education expenses of the account owner, spouse, children or grandchildren.

Education Planning

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES An investment in a 529 plan will fluctuate such that an investor's shares when redeemed may be worth more or less than the original investment. Investors should carefully consider a 529 plan's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses before investing. This and other important information can be found in the 529 plan issuer's official statement, which should be read carefully before investing. Benjamin F. Edwards & Co. is not a tax advisor. Please consult your accountant to discuss the tax implications of the products discussed in this report before investing. In providing this information to you, neither Benjamin F. Edwards & Co. nor our financial advisor, is acting as a "fiduciary" under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) and it should not be considered individualized investment advice or an investment recommendation. Due to the scope and complexity of the tax law changes enacted in December 2017, it is expected that the IRS will be providing additional guidance over the coming months. Technical corrections and additional clarification are common in such situations, and if any are issued, we will update our client materials and resources accordingly. However, given the possibility of updated guidance and corrections to the tax law, it's important that any questions about your individual tax situation be directed to your tax professional.